Regarding the Complaints about the Toyota Corolla Reported in the US
Related Model in Hong Kong not Anticipated to be Affected

Regarding the complaints about the steering of Toyota 2009-2010 Corolla in the US: Crown Motors Ltd. (CML) has not received any complaints or accident reports from local customers of the similar nature. Moreover, the model available in Hong Kong is made in Japan, which is not the case with those sold in the US and its specifications are also different. Amongst other differences, the US model has a left-hand drive configuration and utilizes different type of engine. We do not anticipate that the Corolla model available in Hong Kong is to be affected.
