Press Release

6th December 2010

Congratulations to Lexus GS450h Successfully Completed the 57th Macau Grand Prix The Excellence of Hybrid Vehicle is Proven

With the curtaining down of the 57th Macau Grand Prix, Lexus GS450h successfully completed the Macau Road Sport Challenge and the racer, Mr. Chacky Ip achieved No.11 among 36 racers. As the first hybrid vehicle to participate in the world-class motor racing event, Lexus GS450h, equipped with outstanding environmental performances, has brought a green idea to motor racing activities with its environmental-friendliness.

The reliability and superiority of Lexus GS450h were fully showcased during its participation in the 57th Macau Grand Prix. With its refined design, Lexus GS450h raced at the famous speedway with an extreme outstanding performance, its excellent handling, powerful and smooth acceleration performance were impressive.

As the first hybrid vehicle to participate in the 57th Macau Grand Prix, Lexus GS450h proved that hybrid system can provide powerful driving performance needed from taking part in a top racing event. With a 3.5L V6 D-4S engine and electric motor, the total system output of Lexus GS450h is on par with the power of a 4.5 liter engine providing smoother and more dynamic acceleration which resulted in the outstanding performance.

We at Crown Motors Limited would like to take this opportunity to offer our sincere congratulations to Mr. Chacky Ip, the Chief Editor of Car Plus magazine, successfully completed the Macau Road Sport Challenge. With the participation of Lexus GS450h - the first hybrid vehicle on the Macau Grand Prix race track, the idea of green racing became a truth.
